Update from the Leadership Committee Some Council members have been working together as the “Leadership Committee.” They have been thinking about all of the different ideas members have shared about making leadership more “diverse and inclusive”. • Being “diverse” means that we want our leaders to be people from lots of different backgrounds and life experiences. • Being “inclusive” means that everyone has what they need to fully take part as a leader. The Leadership Committee will talk about the ideas that they have heard from members about improving Inclusion International’s leadership structures. They will give an update on the work they have been doing and how they have been working together. Members will have discussions in breakout rooms about this work.	The Leadership Committee – Richard Bennett, Mariette Ziade, Chaica Sultan, Stephanie Gotlib
Honorary Members At Inclusion International, one way that we celebrate the contributions of key leaders in our movement by awarding them with Honorary Life Membership. We enjoy this opportunity to tell our members about those who have worked so hard to build the strength and credibility of our organisation. Sue will talk about the new Honorary Members in 2026.	Sue Swenson – President of Inclusion International
Voting At the General Assembly, members hear and talk about different things that they will vote on. Voting at the General Assembly happens through an online ballot. Sue will explain what makes an organisation eligible to vote. Sue will explain how a representative from each eligible member can cast their vote. This representative is sometimes called a delegate.	Sue Swenson – President of Inclusion International
